With local, sustainability and reinvention as its watch words, this traditional seaside destination with a distinct USP has been on the radar for those in the know for over 70 years. It seems unlikely it will stay a secret for long.

NEW FOR 2024

SCREEN BREAN

- TV mini-series, The Killing Kind, filmed on Brean beach is an upcoming British drama developed for Paramount+.
- Locally shot film Christmas at the Holly Day Inn starring Anita Dobson (Angie in Eastenders), Colin Baker (sixth incarnation of Doctor Who) and Tamla Kari (Lucy in The Inbetweeners) looks set to be a multi-generational blockbuster.

BREATHE BREAN

- Private hot tubs in spectacular sand dunes are the latest stars of Brean's accommodation offering, providing simple, stylish lodge living where nature is the new luxury. www.hru.co.uk/our-accommodation/hot-tub-lodges
- Posh pitches inspired by continental campsites provide ensuite private bathrooms for the ultimate glamping experience on a beachside farm. www.warrenfarm.co.uk/en-suite-camping-pitches

DRINK, EAT BREAN

70-year-old family-run Rich's Cider Farm opens state of the art farm shop showcasing local producers to support the Somerset community and provide sustainable products. Cheddar cheese, Somerset Amaretto and of course real scrumpy are all on the menu at this treasure of a place in rural Brean. <https://richscider.co.uk/farm-shop/>

TRAVEL BREAN

First section of King Charles III England Coast Path opened at Brean Down. Boosting wellbeing and local tourism, when completed at end of 2024, it will be the longest continuous coastal path in the world.
